February 15 Demonstrator KEVIN DAVIDSON

Yupo artist Kevin Davidson graduated with a BFA in illustration from Art Center College of Design in 1976. He has been a freelance illustrator for over 30 years, and works with local advertising agencies and designers as well as with national publishers.

In 2001, Kevin took a watercolor class from Barbara Stutheit, noted exhibitor in the Watercolor Gallery in Laguna Beach. It was in her class that a fellow student gave him some sheets of Yupo paper. He used it in an illustration project and liked it so much he tried it on a seascape in Barbara's class. He has been using it almost exclusively ever since.

Yupo and plein air painting are a perfect match for Kevin's style of loose painting. The ability to completely lift the paint allows for great flexibility in execution on location, and when he returns to the studio, he can take his time on any cleanup needed, with little feat of overworking the painting. The color stays fresh and he can wipe off and redo completely any areas that aren't working. In addition, the color intensity on Yupo seems to be better than that on rag paper.

Past president of the 300+ member Southern California Plein Air Painters Association, Kevin is a juried member of Watercolor West and a member of Orange and San Clemente Art Association. His paintings are in many collections and he has won scores of awards for his work.
